

47th MMPDS Coordination Meeting

We cordially invite you to the MMPDS General Coordination Committee meeting that will take place at the Embassy Suites by Hilton PDX Airport beginning Sunday, March 15, 2026 at 3:00 pm (Orientation) through Thursday, March 19, 2026 at 5:00 pm. A complete schedule and preliminary agenda has been included in this email.

This meeting brings together subject matter experts from around the world for discussions on the direction and growth of the MMPDS Handbook. The meeting will include individual meetings for Task Groups, Working Groups, and Steering Groups. You will have the opportunity to work alongside aerospace corporations, material suppliers, and government regulators.

FURTHER INFORMATION:

For further information on the meeting hotel and/or registration, please contact scalf@battelle.org. For technical questions, please contact halld@battelle.org.

Remote Observers

As before, for each ISG/GSG member physically attending, two remote observers from their organization may participate. And for each non-member physically attending, one remote observer from their organization may participate. Any additional employees must pay the full meeting price for the day or days they have remote access.

- Remote Observers are individuals who are not in the room. All attendees in the room need to register and pay.
- Face-to-face attendees register first and will receive a link they can forward to their designated Remote Observer(s).
- If your organization does not have a person attending, individuals may register and pay the full price for the day(s) they will attend remotely.

The following rules apply to all remote observers:

- Observers will receive the Agenda, Handout, and Minutes of the 47th GCC meeting. Remote observers will be able to listen to discussions. Any questions can be presented by a fellow employee in the conference room.
- Observers will be able to hear the live discussion subject to limits of the meeting, e.g., size and shape of the meeting room. Their microphones will be muted and will stay muted during all discussions.
- Observers will be able to see presentation materials and participate in meeting chats messages through the virtual meeting invitation.
- Observers will not be able to vote if a GCC vote is necessary during the session.
